

DIRECTOR INTERCULTURAL MINISTRIES, ARCHDIOCESE OF INDIANAPOLIS

The Archdiocese of Indianapolis is searching for a Director to lead the Office of Intercultural Ministries (OIM). The Director will provide guidance and leadership for this essential ministry with a focus on repositioning this office as we look to the future. The person in this role will serve as an advocate for diversity and will strive to develop intercultural competence in our parishes, schools and agencies. This person of faith will need to be both a pastoral minister who possesses the vision for how our parishes, schools and agencies can develop their potential and also a professional who holds specialized credentials in ministry.

The successful candidate must be a practicing Catholic and able to meet Archdiocesan background check requirements. A bachelor's degree is required with a master's degree or equivalent experience in theology, pastoral studies, or intercultural ministry strongly preferred. Previous experience in ministry at the parish or diocesan level with a focus on intercultural ministry is required.

The successful candidate will possess or demonstrate the following:

- A professed and practicing Catholic who can articulate the teachings of the Church and is a zealous disciple of Jesus.
- Life-long learner with a passion for diverse cultures and traditions.
- Relationship-builder who acts with wisdom and humility and demonstrates a sensibility or respect for various ethnicities/cultures.
- Pursuer of justice and advocate for the isolated and forgotten.
- Excellent communicator who invites participation and collaboration. Ability to adapt message according to the needs and characteristics of many different audiences.
- Bilingual preferred with the ability to communicate effectively in English and Spanish.
- Excellent planning, organizational and problem-solving skills.
- Demonstrated skills in organizing and supervising people in formation and administration in a multi-cultural setting.
- Ability to work independently and highly self-motivated.
- Strong leadership skills with experience in supervising others
